Humanitarian

Development

Within the framework of a partnership with the PDP Foundation, host countries stand to benefit significantly from our innovative Public-Private Investment Partnership (PPIP) financial model. Through these partnerships, countries gain access to preferential financing terms, thereby facilitating the implementation of ambitious projects with reduced financial strain.

Additionally, our collaborations offer host countries access to cutting-edge technologies, fostering rapid advancement and enhancing competitiveness on the global stage. Our initiatives extend to providing subsidies aimed at lowering the Levelized Cost of Energy (LCOE) for new renewable technologies, thus expediting the adoption of sustainable energy sources while mitigating associated costs.

Preferential project finance and insurance underwriting services establish a secure framework for the successful execution of large-scale infrastructure projects.

“PDP Foundation’s innovative solutions, including Sovereign Debt Restructuring and Debt for Climate Swaps, provide avenues for host countries to alleviate debt burdens while simultaneously addressing pressing climate challenges...”

---

...whilst our Knowledge Transfer Partnerships (KTP) foster collaboration and capacity building, ensuring sustained progress and mutual benefit for all stakeholders involved.

In addition to its commercial initiatives, the PDP Foundation extends its humanitarian impact through the Public-Private Investment Partnership (PPIP) model, particularly in projects devoid of commercial components.

This aspect of our partnership focuses on strengthening the capacity of local non-governmental organisations (NGOs) and community-based organisations (CBOs) to deliver essential services and uphold human dignity. By collaborating with these grassroots entities, PDP facilitates the development of basic services critical to human well-being, including access to clean water, sanitation facilities, and energy resources. We further focus on health, education as well as a direct focus on Skills Development and all other sectors that will add to the betterment of Humanity.

Through capacity-building programmes and strategic financial and technical support, we empower Government, NGOs and CBOs to efficiently manage humanitarian projects, ensuring that aid reaches those most in need in a timely and effective manner.

Our efforts not only alleviate immediate humanitarian crises but also contribute to the long-term resilience and self-sufficiency of communities, that leads to sustainable development and preserving human dignity.

HOW TO SUSTAIN THE HUMANITARIAN MODEL?

PDP has two arms. The Commercial arm aims to accumulate a diverse portfolio of large commercial project investments, both government and private, that will provide long-term income streams to sustain the Humanitarian arm.

The Humanitarian arm of the Foundation always aims to consolidate charitable organisations with project solutions through a structured and focused plan, to offer impactful intervention to problems. Knowledge sharing is key.

PDP strives to see these solutions overcome deficits in communities and therefore always aims to achieve positive outcomes, with a high level of accountability.

Although the Foundation's projects are diverse, PDP believes in supporting education on all levels and especially job creation through skills development.

EMPOWER TOMORROW: NURTURING CHILDREN, ENRICHING COMMUNITIES

Investing in the potential of our children is a gateway to transforming our collective future. The PDP Foundation is dedicated to supporting projects that revolve around schools and learners, recognizing that the impact extends far beyond individuals. Our goal is to cultivate a highly skilled future generation, easing the burden on governments and fostering prosperity throughout society.

The PDP Foundation acts as a catalyst for collaboration, bringing together local foundations, companies, and governments to create sustainable solutions in targeted areas. Through the strategic pooling of resources and expertise, we amplify our impact, paving the way for a better-skilled workforce and flourishing communities.

With crucial funding from the PDP Foundation, our partner organisations can concentrate their efforts and collaborate toward a common vision: the development of resilient, empowered communities.

PDP AFFILIATIONS

At PDP, we are dedicated to forging partnerships with entities such as UKAA and PAP, collaborating closely with Governmental structures to revive and empower Africa's traditional leadership and economic frameworks. Our goal is to reinvigorate these age-old structures, transforming them into conduits for unlocking Africa's vast economic potential and fostering prosperity for its people.

We firmly believe that it is time to reawaken the ancient divine blueprints of the African continent and leverage them as the foundational pillars for propelling Africa towards its promised land. Central to this vision is the rediscovery and embracing of Africa's true identities and origins. Understanding the authentic historical foundations of nations is paramount for achieving enduring success and progress.

Through our partnerships with Governmental bodies, we strive to support this rediscovery and harness it as a catalyst for Africa's socio-economic advancement.

UNITED KINGDOMS OF AFRICA ASSOCIATION

A voice of a billion people

The United Kingdoms of Africa Association was officially formed in 2015. It includes the official endorsement of 535 Kings, Sultans, Sheiks, and other Traditional Leaders in Africa via the Forum of Sovereigns and Traditional Leaders that was formed in 2008, who collectively represent the voices of nearly one billion people on the African Continent.

The United Kingdoms of Africa Association is a non-political, social development advocacy platform which acts as a unified voice for civil society. It functions in support of Presidencies and National government, Institutions and Citizens to support the National Development Plans of African Governments, Agenda 2063 of the African Union and the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals.

The Pan-African Parliament (PAP) is one of the organs of the African Union (AU) as set out by the Treaty Establishing the African Economic Community (Abuja Treaty). The Parliament is intended as a platform for people from all African states to be involved in discussions and decision-making on the problems and challenges facing the continent.

The first Parliament was inaugurated on 18 March 2004, in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia. The Pan-African Parliament has its seat in Midrand, South Africa.

PDP PHILOSOPHY

At the heart of the PDP Foundation lies measurable Impact. We are dedicated to funding projects that drive positive change and address persistent socio-economic challenges. At the heart of the Foundation's philosophy lies a commitment to impactful Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) initiatives that leave no one behind.

Unlike conventional approaches, the PDP Foundation's strategy transcends mere financial investment. It is rooted in a deep understanding that true progress is measured not just by financial metrics, but by the tangible impact it has on ordinary people's lives. By focusing on measurable outcomes and sustainable solutions, the Foundation ensures that its projects make a meaningful difference in communities that we serve.

The PDP Foundation's impact-focused approach is driven by a steadfast belief in the power of collaboration and inclusivity. Rather than imposing top-down solutions, the Foundation works hand-in-hand with local Government and stakeholders, leveraging their expertise and insights to co-create initiatives that address the root causes of socio-economic challenges.

Furthermore, the Foundation recognizes that sustainable development must be holistic and equitable. By prioritizing projects that empower marginalized groups, promoting gender equality, and fostering community resilience, the PDP Foundation ensures that its impact is felt by all, regardless of background or circumstance.

The PDP Foundation places a strong emphasis on accountability and transparency. Through rigorous monitoring, evaluation, and reporting processes, the Foundation tracks the progress of its funded projects, sharing successes, challenges, and learnings with stakeholders. This culture of transparency not only builds trust but also fosters a culture of continuous improvement and learning.

AFRICAN CONTINENTAL FREE TRADE AGREEMENT

In addition to the above areas of focus, the PDP Foundation will provide advisory services to facilitate the re-negotiation, negotiation and establishment of new trade frameworks on the continent so that Africa can quickly unlock value from the African Continental Free Trade Agreement (AfCFTA). Part of this work will involve being a catalyst to assist African countries to increase intra-African trade and investment, and likewise, establish new frameworks for global investment and trade with Africa.

To date, Africa has had to endure unfair and exploitative trade environments due to the unrighteous imposition of colonial-based trade structures.

"These unrighteous structures continue to plunder Africa and now have to be reversed."

---

The African Continental Free Trade Agreement (AfCFTA), signed by 44 African countries in Kigali, Rwanda, in March 2018, is meant to create a tariff-free continent that can grow local businesses, boost intra-African trade, accelerate industrialisation and create jobs.

As all 55 African countries join this free trade area, it will be the world's largest by several countries, covering more than 1.2 billion people and a combined GDP of $2.5 trillion, according to the UN Economic Commission for Africa (ECA). The economic power of the 350 million African Diaspora residing in other nations is another economic bloc that adds further weight to the strength of Africa. A key objective of the PDP Foundation is to ensure that this collective unity is achieved on the continent.

The collective economic strength of the continent together with the implementation of economic models such as the 'Economics of Mutual Value Co-Creation' are critical building blocks that will result in Africa being a 'model continent' to demonstrate to the rest of the world how to kick start global sustainable economic growth using ancient Biblical blueprints.

For this to happen, it requires that we partner with our Heavenly Father and do our part to put in place the necessary models, systems, and structures through which His Spirit of Economic Restoration can sweep over the nations. The execution of our mandate will be done through our 'Build Africa' services.

United Nations

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT
GOALS

Our investment approach at the PDP Foundation is specifically aligned with the UN - Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). We strategically target sectors and projects that not only promise financial returns but also directly contribute to advancing key SDG objectives.

We prioritize partnerships with partners that demonstrate a strong commitment to sustainability and social responsibility, ensuring that our investments have a lasting positive impact on communities and the environment whilst SDG impact outcomes and measurement form an integral part of our project management cycle.

Dear PDP Foundation Leadership Team,

This letter serves as my testimony and commitment to the following:

I, HIS EXCELLENCY CHIEF CHARUMBIRA would like to formally pledge my support as the ACTING PRESIDENT OF THE PAN AFRICAN PARLIAMENT, for the PDP Foundation Caritas (Italy and Hong Kong) and the outstanding work they are doing in Africa.

I confirm their continuous efforts and commitment to seek financial support for Africa to fund sustainable humanitarian enterprise development projects, among others, on a continental scale.

Currently, the global climate-neutral energy goals will require a significant amount of critical raw materials for renewable energy installations and storage solutions.

As climate goals become more ambitious, prices of raw materials are increasing, making renewable investments marginally more expensive and more exposed to geopolitical tensions.

Africa has an abundance of arable land and natural resources combined with the necessary human capital, to play a pivotal role in terms of stabilizing global food security and raw material supply for the global transition to renewable and sustainable energy.

The PDP Foundation Caritas in partnership with the Pan African Parliament has the necessary political support to coordinate large scale sustainable investments and mutually beneficial partnerships on a regional, country and continental level in alignment with the objectives of Agenda 2063.

I hereby also confirm that I support the financial leadership of the PDP Foundation Caritas to secure and manage the funds they obtain for these purposes, on behalf of the African nations. I have had a close working relationship with Maria Engelbrecht since 2012 in her capacity as Co-Founder of United Kingdoms of Africa Association. I trust the directives and financial guidance of His Eminence

Dear Mr. Eminence Archbishop Jonathan A. R. Boyenne,

On behalf of the European Economic Senate, we would like to express our gratitude for the excellent and fruitful cooperation since 2019 as a partner organization. In a world increasingly characterized by challenges such as energy uncertainties, black-out risks, escalating military conflicts, climate changes, economic instabilities, and social inequalities, our partnership is more important than ever.

Our joint strategic endeavors are crucial for addressing these global crises. Having achieved all necessary milestones of our projects and technologies, including patents, feasibility studies, certifications, and accreditations, we are well-positioned to advance innovative solutions in areas such as renewable energy, fuel-saving technologies that significantly reduce emissions, and traffic safety.

These projects not only align with the sustainability goals of the European Union but also contribute significantly to improving environmental objectives. They substantially reduce emission output, ensure a more stable energy supply, prevent energy interruptions in potential blackouts, provide energy to disaster areas, and enhance safety in transportation.

We would like to express our sincere thanks for your longstanding support in these diverse areas. In these challenging times, we need all available resources more than ever to accompany the sustainable projects of our Senate companies and actively shape the future of Europe and the African continent. Our continents are closely interconnected, and it is our joint responsibility to actively and efficiently shape a sustainable future and implement sustainability goals.

In this spirit of cooperation and shared commitment, we look forward to the future with confidence. We are convinced that our continued partnership will not only lead to tangible results but also serve as a shining example of successful, cross-border collaboration. Together, we have the power to bring about significant changes and make a positive impact on our societies and the environment.

We look forward to continuing our valuable partnership and to jointly exploring new paths to make our world more sustainable, safer, and more livable.
